

Gevasol Micromotors

Sounds good?

We would like to challenge you to build with us our new activity.

We are looking for experts in electrical micromotor design and manufacturing. Brushless, stepper, linear actuator and more, motors that will be integrated in our motion and fluid control customized solutions and products.

You

- Senior electrical, mechanical or microtechnology engineer with proven record of minimum eight years at a known major micromotor manufacturer.
- Autonomous, capable of bringing a project from one end to the other
- Open to new ideas and concepts
- Capable of CAD, electrical, mechanical and environmental simulations
- Ready for international travel, occasionally
- English is our company language, French, German and any other are an advantage

Gevasol

- We design to need therefore close attention and proximity with our customers are our highest priority
- International environment with small teams of engineers, production sites at global distribution
- Our applications are very diversified, continuous challenge is guaranteed
- We are proud of our diversity and our social responsibility

Location

Gland, Switzerland

- Please forward resume to email jobs@gevasol.com
- The referral is for both women and men